A Monthly Digest of Church Life

Sargent's Voice

From the desk of Mark Sargent, Senior Pastor at Embry Hills United Methodist Church:

Preacher, say it ain't so. We've already done Lent. You know, I gave up desserts for forty days back before Easter. And now, we're in the season of fresh tomatoes and food on the grill. Please don't interrupt me with more talk about Lent."

Sorry to ruin your summer! You can blame it on another one of those fringe-like books I read recently. Perhaps you've heard of it. If not, I think you should read it. Frankly, I think it should be required reading for every pastor, priest, church member, and Christian everywhere. It's called Rescuing Jesus From the Church. Written by Robin Meyers, a parish pastor in Oklahoma, it is an easily-readable, high-accessible book that introduces us to some of what's been happening in Christianity in recent years.

One of Meyers' chapters is entitled, "Discipleship as Obedience, Not Observance." In his gently prophetic way, Meyers says that "the concept of discipleship today requires little, if any, sacrifice—not to mention submission." Christian congregations have become the competing entities for the "business" of the "church-shopping" crowd, so we want to make ourselves look as user-friendly as we can.

Lent in the Summer?

I hope this brief passage from Meyer's book will gracefully unsettle you as much as it did me.

"Don't worry, we say [to prospective church members], it's not like getting married. If you will agree to fill an empty spot in the pew and make a pledge, we can move in together. Then, after the flush of our initial infatuation has faded and we start quarreling, you can decide whether to keep any of the promises you didn't make."

Following Jesus is dangerous stuff. And, Meyers is right that we have largely lost any idea of the cost of Christian discipleship. At its worst, modern American religion has become contaminated with insidious ideas of all that one "gains" by following Jesus. Another chapter in Meyers' book is entitled, "Prosperity is Dangerous, Not Divine." The bottom line of much of the book is that we need to leave the comfort of worshiping Christ and observing religious rituals and enter the dangerous and costly world of imitating Jesus, who, of course, was known more for the traditions he challenged than for the ones he reinforced.

Which leaves us with this Lenten question, right smack dab here in the middle of our summer. What will we give up to follow Jesus? Assuming that we are carrying some kind of albatross-like baggage as we stumble after him, what must we let go of in order to more swiftly follow him? To what are we clinging that is making it impossible for us to really grasp his hand and set our hearts to the work that was his and to which we are called? By the way, these are not only individual questions but corporate ones as well. And, I do happen to have an idea or two about what the Church might need to relinquish in order to really follow after the example of the One who was so bold that he was executed in order to prevent the insurrection he was feared to be catalyzing. I won't share those ideas here. I do hope, however, that you'll stay tuned.

For now, it's enough to be reminded that Lent is not a season, but is the very shape of the Christian path we are called to walk. As you walk that path, of what must you let go?

On a hot summer day in June, the Square Pegs UMW group loaded up their families and supplies, and headed to the United Methodist Children's Home in Decatur. We met six families temporarily living at the UMCH and treated them to an afternoon of fun and food.

We brought bathing suits, beach towels, and beach bags with pool toys and sunscreen for each family along with a pocket prayer square. It was a blessing for us to see the big smiles and excitement as they received their gifts.

After lots of pool time and "slurping" ice cold watermelon, we fired up the grill for hamburgers and hot dogs and put out the fixings for a delicious meal together.

I think everyone had a terrific time, most of all the Square Pegs. These families touched our hearts and we all came away with new friends. We look forward to our next trip to the UMCH. Thanks very much to all who participated by attending or sending food and gifts. It was a fantastic event!

The Square Pegs will take off during the summer but will meet again on the first Monday evening of the month in the fall. Please join us and come see what we are all about! Look for details in the Source.

United Methodist Men: Reaching Every Man

The UMM will not meet during the months of July and August. Our next meeting is scheduled for September 12 in the family life center with breakfast at 07:30am. All are invited to attend.

Our annual golf tournament is scheduled for September 22 at The Oaks Course in Covington. Take I-20 East to exit 88. Right turn for two miles. Course is on the left. We will be playing best ball from the gold tees. Cost is $36 which does include a sandwich, chips and cold drink. Please bring cash as the pro shop does not accept checks. I will be collecting on the morning of the tournament. If you desire to pay by credit card you may do so in the pro shop. We are hopeful for 10 groups of four, OR MORE. Please form your groups and call or email me as soon as possible. Ladies are invited and expected. See you then.

NETWorks

A Cooperative Christian Ministry Serving the Northlake—Embry Hills—Tucker Area

I'd like to give you a few bits of information about the May NETWorks' clientele and the ways they were helped.

Eighty-one people were helped in May, the youngest being 20 years old and the oldest 71 years. Fifty-six of the 81 (69%) helped had children under the age of 18. Total monies spent in May was $6,698.79, the majority of that going to help people pay their rent or utilities, motel rooms for those without shelter and for Kroger cards so clients could buy groceries. EHUMC did refer clients to NETWorks in May.

NETWorks is currently in desperate need of disposable razors and shaving cream (travel size) and deodorant (travel size). Further, because of the summer heat, bottled water is needed. Please drop these items off in the outreach room or directly to NETWorks located in the basement of Tucker First Baptist on the corner of LaVista and Main St. in Tucker.

Your prayers, gift of volunteering or monetary donations are always needed by NETWorks to help those in need in the Northlake-Embry Hills-Tucker area. Please give any way you can.

~Suzanne Segler

Change for Change

Thank you for your generosity in giving to Action Ministries in the second quarter of the year through the Change for Change program. We are waiting on a final tally and will be sure to share that with you soon! For the third quarter of the year, all money collected in the Change for Change jug will go to Snax Sax!

Food for Thought . . .

...Hunger Doesn't "Happen" Once a Year

Anyone who has ever volunteered at a food bank knows that hunger has no schedule. However, it is an unfortunate reality that most groups host food drives only once or twice a year, usually around holidays. This past Lent, the Heretics Sunday School Class launched its first major service project – Food for Thought. We reflected and learned about hunger at a hands-on style workshop; we coordinated a church-wide food drive; we even joined forces, young and old, and had fun building massive structures with our canned goods. But most importantly, we filled a van with a TON of food (literally) and restocked the shelves with our Catholic neighbors at the St. Martin's Food Bank of Holy Cross Catholic Church.

We thought we were done – at least for another year. But the caring, thoughtful people of Embry Hills United Methodist Church said, “let's do this year-round.” That's the kind of folks the people of Embry Hills are – they know hunger doesn't happen once a year.

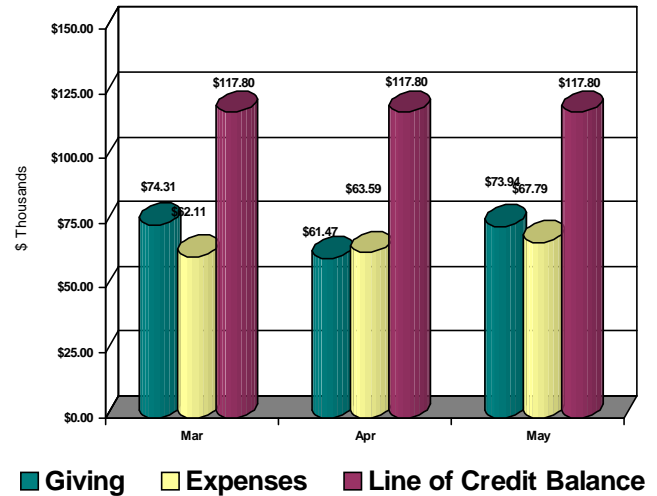

The members of the Heretics Sunday School Class have agreed to establish a year-round partnership with the St. Martin's Food Bank and to coordinate ongoing food drives within our congregation. We don't quite know the “how's” and the “what's” yet, but you will be hearing from us soon. And a big thank you to the people of Embry Hills whose big hearts and generous pocket-books acknowledge that hunger is an ongoing mission.

~Sally Harrell

Annual Conference

FROM ORDINARY TO EXTRAORDINARY

WAKE UP AND SEE WHERE GOD IS MOVING

2010 NGUMC ANNUAL CONFERENCE REPORT

June 16—18, 2010 ♦ Athens, GA

Jamie Jenkins, executive assistant to Bishop Watson, has written an excellent summary of positives, which we have included as part of our report, from the 144th North Georgia Annual Conference.

We are thankful that the best Church Staff in the Conference is at Embry Hills UMC and they are all returning for another year!! We are pleased to announce Jim Cantrell has been assigned to the Atlanta –Emory District as our new District Superintendent.

The EHUMC Choir started Conference off on the “right foot” by singing at the opening session. Many comments were heard all week about the outstanding musical presentation. “YEA”, Amir, Mark, Victoria, and choir!!!! Valerie Harvard opened one of the conference sessions in prayer!!! Elaine participated in packing meals for Stop Hunger Now in addition to attending the various sessions. Some 50 members/associates from EHUMC were in attendance/noted in conference sessions. CLAP! CLAP! CLAP!!

Atlanta’s Mayor Kasim Reed was speaker for the Laity Luncheon. He is a member of Cascade UMC and spent his childhood at Ben Hill UMC. His grandfather was a Methodist Minister who studied at Gammon Theology School. Mayor Reed is an entertaining speaker who openly shared his faith and commitment to Jesus Christ.

Great Happenings in our Conference:

- 50 young adults, joined by Bishop and Mrs. Watson, gathered at the Two Story Coffee House in Athens on Tuesday night for fellowship.
- Camp Glisson is debt free! Development of an update to Camp Glisson’s master plan is underway

- Advocate editor Glenn Hannigan encourages all N. GA. Methodists to subscribe to the paper. You will receive local, national, and international news about the missions of our great church. This is an excellent source to keep one current on candidates, delegates and resolutions for the 2012 conferences.
- UMW theme: “Faith, hope, and love in action.” More than 140 N. GA. women traveled to St. Louis for the United Methodist Women’s Assembly.
- UMM, mark your calendars for UMM night at the Atlanta Braves on August 28th and for the Annual Men’s Retreat at Rock Eagle September 24-26.
- Next year is an election year at conference. Elections will be held for your Lay and Clergy delegates to the 2012 Jurisdictional and Generals Conferences. Forms are available if you are interested in putting your “hat in the ring”.

Some thoughts to ponder as North Georgia United Methodists move into a new year

- On a very sad note – The Advocacy Committee of the Office of Connectional Ministries hosted a screening of the documentary film “Playground”. The film follows Libby Spears’ sensitive investigation into the topic of child sexual exploitation. Brought to the attention of the conference is the fact that Atlanta has more sex trade of children than any other area of the U. S.
- Keith Cox, Conference Treasurer, acknowledged four of the primary fiscal challenges this year: Unfunded liabilities - $90 million, Simpsonwood, Lack of Conference Reserves, Declining Apportionment payment percentages

Thank you for the honor of allowing us to serve as your delegates to the 144th North Georgia United Methodist Annual Conference,

Blessings,

Toni and Bill Jernigan

The month of June seemed to take our Youth members and spread us out everywhere—so many different camps, sports, jobs and vacations! In fact, I am writing this during the 12 hours between a quick family trip to Panama City Beach and heading to Charleston with the Youth Tour Choir. I mean Youth Ministry members are busy people!

We love getting back together to catch up, though, and have done so during Sunday School (9:45 a.m. in Room 403) as we talk about Good Friends: Relationships & Faith. We spent one Sunday evening during Youth Fellowship (5:15-7:30 p.m.; $3 for dinner) discussing When Putdowns Tear Down—we all seemed pretty familiar with both sides of the issue and had some good ideas for preventing ourselves and others from being unkind. Two REEL Time movie/Bible Study nights brought a few of us together to discuss how The Princess Bride (best movie...ever!) and Contact movies can relate to the Bible—what? We ended the month with 4th Sunday Worship—Worship for Youth by Youth.

July is VERY busy for Youth Ministries. Once we get past the 4th of July (No Youth Fellowship that night), we have one last REEL Time Bible Study (Remember the Titans—July 7 @ 6 p.m., in Room 403), celebrate the addition of our rising 6th graders during Youth Week 2010 (July 11-17), where we will volunteer for 4 days at Camp Hollywood (offered by Families of Children Under Stress); play at Six Flags; splash around at a pool party; check out a movie outdoors and top it off with a lock-in!!! Just before 22 of us head to Savannah for our mission trip, we will volunteer for Embry Hills UMC's Vacation Bible School (July 19-23). Wow! Registration for many events was due in June, but please contact me to see if we can make some room for you. Check it all out on our amazing church website where all the info. is just sitting and waiting for you to read and get involved! Go to www.embryhillsumc.org/announcements/youth.

As for the rest of your summer: Be Safe & Have Fun!
